

2025 SYMPOSIUM

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Women for OSU is a diverse group of visionary women who share a passion for inspiring leadership and financial support to Oklahoma State University. It envisions a culture of giving and service that acknowledges the significant impact women have at OSU and inspires others to positively shape the future of the university through philanthropy and engagement.

The annual Women for OSU Symposium is a unique opportunity to gather in Stillwater and gain valuable knowledge about philanthropic decision-making and leadership. Women for OSU celebrates members of the Cowboy family who display leadership in philanthropy by naming the Philanthropist of the Year, awarding scholarships to outstanding students and bestowing Partnering to Impact grants to faculty and staff projects.

*featuring keynote speaker Princess Sarah Culberson

Princess Sarah Culberson is an internationally-known thought leader, educator and award-winning humanitarian. She was born to an African father and white mother, and as an infant was placed into foster care, and then adopted by a white family. Her story took an unexpected turn when she learned from her biological father that she is the granddaughter of a Paramount Chief in Sierra Leone and holds princess status. Princess Sarah shared her story of reuniting with her birth father in A Princess Found: An American Family, an African Chieftom, and the Daughter Who Connected Them All. The book is now being adapted into a major motion picture for Disney Studios.

Princess Sarah and her brother founded Sierra Leone Rising, a nonprofit that provides clean drinking water, sanitary pads, education, medical attention as well as resources to build schools and technology centers throughout Sierra Leone. Princess Sarah's work addresses issues impacting Sierra Leone, celebrates diversity, female empowerment, community and culture as well as women and girl conversations.
